

Bryce Brucker
Assistant Vice President for Aon Construction Services Group

Bryce started his career in the construction industry and after ten years moved to insurance. Leveraging his prior work experience he found a position with Aon in their Insurance and Surety group. He joined the RCA Board of Directors to network and build relationships with people in our industry, as well as gain some experience from the corporate side and see what their business concerns are.

Bryce hopes to see more young people choose construction as a career since it opens up so many opportunities. With his presence on the Board of Directors as well as the Future Construction Leaders we anticipate great things in the future in assisting the RCA efforts to reach out to young workers.