

Paul Whelan
Senior Project Manager at Westridge Construction Ltd.

Paul has worked in the construction industry in the UK, Middle East and now Canada. During his thirty-five years of experience Paul has worked as tradesperson, Superintendent, Project and/or Construction Manager and Owner's representative liaising with clients, consultants, suppliers, tradespersons and maintenance personnel. With his background he can attest to the freedom of movement and availability of work around the globe the construction industry provides to workers. He joined the Board of Directors to see a larger view of the local construction industry and to meet people from different backgrounds and companies.
